- III. Midwest Region VP Report Bob Kiely reported on a number of items up for discussion for the ILCMA Board:
 - 1. Interviews for selection of 2013-14 ICMA President Elect. Two candidates are being interviewed.
 - 2. 2014 Budget is being discussed. Task Force on Financing will be giving a report at the board meeting.
 - 3. Bob encouraged all Board members to go on the ICMA website and participate on Tenet 7 on political neutrality. It is important to get feedback.
 - 4. Bob asked Dave Nord to provide thoughts on ICMA VP nomination process. There was a lack of diversity in nominees.
 - 5. Bob will be sending an email out about Life, Well Run. They are ready to ramp up the public campaign. Local communities can start to run in on local tv access. They are looking for stories about collective effort to accomplish projects.

6. Just one thing initiative by Bonnie Strauss – Bob asked if you had to pay for ICMA out of your own pocket, would you be a member and what one thing does ICMA do that gives value to you to make you a member; if not a member – what is one thing ICMA can do to make you a member of ICMA?

IV. COMMITTEE REPORTS

A. Professional Development & Education Committee

1. Kevin reported that the Committee had a successful year with good attendance at meetings. Blaine Wing helped the Association move into video streaming. This was a successful venture.

B. Nominating Committee

C. Scholarship & Awards Committee

1. Final Report – the report was in the packet. Awards will be given at the Summer Conference.

D. Conference Committee

- 1. Winter Conference Expense Report was in the packet.
- 2. Summer Conference 175 registrations as of today

E. Professional Conduct Committee

1. Final Report – final report was in the packet.

G. IML Managers Committee

1. Report – final report was in the packet.

H. Membership Services

- 1. Final Reports
- 2. ICMA/ILCMA State Affiliation Membership Strategy Dave N. brought this to the committee a few months ago. The committee proposes a number of strategies to implement over the next few years. What is missing is a final implementation plan. Dave N. is looking for approval from the Board. If approve and implement the strategy, ILCMA would be the first Midwest state to do so.
- a. Retain existing full and affiliate members ILCMA responsibility would be for members of Membership Services Committee to make phone calls to ICMA members who have not renewed twice per year.
 - b. Recruit full members ILCMA send targeted information to new managers in IL.
- c. Recruit affiliate members ILCMA responsibility is there a benefit to reaching beyond the manager position and look to department heads.
 - d. ICMA presence at ILCMA events -
 - e. Increase student chapters recruit MPA programs to join student chapters.
- f. Retain encore retired members RR contact retiring members and encourage to stay involved.

David Limardi will be the point person to be sure the strategy is coordinated and implemented successfully.

The Ombudsman program is another strategy that ILCMA can implement as part of this strategy. This contact can enforce the benefit of membership in both Associations and shows the new member that they are valued.

Bob Barber asked "How do we define "eligible" member?" The gap analysis is based on ICMA recognized communities and those are the communities that are targeted.

Mike Baker noted that we have a unique opportunity and it is critical that we get it right and emphasize the value of both associations.

A motion to approve the strategy with takeout traditional vs nontraditional and add ombudsman program was made by Mike Baker; seconded by Joe Breinig. Motion approved.

Dave N. said that we are going to do an evaluation of the mentoring program. Bob Barber also noted that we should do an evaluation of the MIT program. Art Osten is MIT Chair and one of the issues he's tried to address is working with recruiters to get better feedback on interview process. He has surveyed recruiters and is getting additional feedback from them.

I. Promote the Profession Committee

- 1. Final Report an article on Lake County is almost complete. Dawn and Marty are working on an article based on city of Princeton called "Making the Case for City Management."
- 2. Serafin Proposal Julia went through the two phase proposal by Serafin. The Committee recommends the Phase One approach; but was not in favor of keeping Serafin on retainer. They did like the flexibility of being able to utilize Serafin services if needed. The Phase One assessment is $20,000. The timing of the SWOT on communication is ideal given that ILCMA is also looking at a website redesign. Does it include how we market to current and prospective members? Julia noted that the assessment it does address all communication in a general sense and will clarify if this includes membership marketing. Mike Baker noted that we also need to coordinate this with the ILCMA/ICMA membership strategy coordination. Dave Limardi stated that ICMA is willing to provide resources through the Life, Well Run campaign. Branding for both associations is important. Dave cautioned to move slowly so that the Life, Well Run campaign can play out. Dave mentioned that we may want to put the Serafin proposal into the ICMA/ILCMA membership strategy. ICMA has PR resources. Would ICMA be willing to provide the same service as Serafin? It was recommended that the Board see what ICMA can bring before we enter into any type of agreement with Serafin. Next steps: How do we bring ICMA into fold? Dawn will send to Dave L. a copy of the Serafin proposal and he will take it to ICMA to see how the two plans can be coordinated. The PTP committee will try to meet prior to the July 18 board and committee orientation meeting with a recommendation.

TO: State Association Presidents

Presidents of International Hispanic Network, National Forum for Black Public Administrators, and National Association of County Administrators

CC: ICMA Executive Board

State and Affiliate Association Staff FR: Bonnie Svrcek, ICMA President

Over the past few months, I had the pleasure of participating in the new ICMA Regional Vice President nominating process following each of the Regional Summits. This election marked the debut of the new regional nominating process where six Regional Nominating Committees replaced the single Nominating Committee that had selected nominees for ICMA Regional Vice Presidents in the past.

Based on debriefings in each region, the interview process at the 2013 Regional Summits went very smoothly. All but three state associations with affiliation agreements were able to participate in the interview process. On behalf of the Executive Board, I want to thank you for your efforts to participate in this new process. In addition, we thank our national affiliates for working to identify a representative from their organizations for each region. While there was not full representation this year, there is good experience to build on.

The new process shifts the responsibility for nominating well-qualified members who can best represent the diversity of the profession and its future to the regions. The ICMA Executive Board believes that this will provide a new opportunity to strengthen ties and shared ownership with state and affiliate associations. This is a critical partnership for ICMA since the Regional Nominating Committees select ICMA's leadership — all vice presidents and therefore future ICMA Presidents. (Note: The ICMA Constitution requires the Board to select the ICMA President from the pool of those who have previously served as a regional vice president.)

The Board's nominations and elections schedule states that "the Board will review the diversity in the make-up of the upcoming Board at the June board meeting. The results of this review will then be shared with state and affiliate organizations as well as with the membership." At the recent Board meeting, the Board reviewed the make-up of the 2013-2014 Board — assuming the election of the nominees who are unopposed. The Board will have members from communities in all population ranges (from under 10,000 to over 100,000), two members from counties, six women and two African — Americans. For the second year, there will be no Hispanic members and the two African-American members will leave the Board in 2014.

The Board discussed the need for ICMA and state and affiliate organizations to work together to identify diverse candidates. ICMA's long-standing policy is to recruit nominees that will provide a balanced board that represents the profession and those served by it. The Board noted that currently ICMA's general membership lacks diversity of gender, race and ethnicity and is not representative of the communities served. This creates challenges for the selection process. The Board emphasized that greater diversity in the membership is vital to the sustainability of the profession and underscored the Board's commitment to increasing diversity in the membership and in those who serve on the ICMA Executive Board. This will take shared efforts to identify candidates and to groom future candidates.

The deadline for submission of candidate names for the next nominations and elections process will be in December 2013. To prepare for the 2014 elections and beyond, Regional Vice Presidents will be asking your association to provide an opportunity on an upcoming Board agenda to discuss how we can work together to increase diversity in membership and leadership at both the state and national level. The Board believes that crafting and carrying out joint strategies can make a difference in the coming years.

As always, thank you for your leadership and for making your community a great place to live, work, play, and visit.

Dawn,

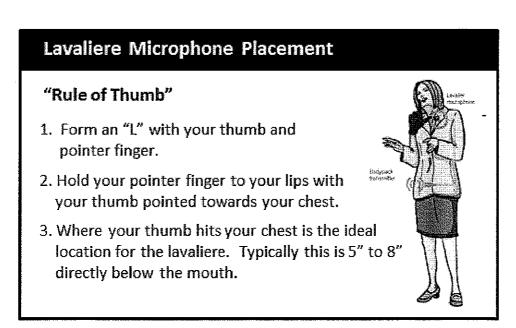

I appreciate you compiling your evaluation data and forwarding comments and issues regarding your recent conference at Eagle Ridge. We value customer feedback and look for ways to always improve.

Eagle Ridge balances its meals by providing fruit/vegetable, protein and starch. We do however, offer healthier menu alternatives for the health conscious individuals. We also are happy to work with clients who have dietary or lifestyle restrictions including, but not limited to, vegetarians, vegans, gluten free and those with food allergies. Eagle Ridge's executive chef is also available to customize menus and offer suggestions.

We would be more than happy to discuss alternative Thursday night entertainment. For consideration; dinner theme parties which can include live bands; hypnotist; campfires, s'mores and singers; game shows, fireworks displays. The possibilities are endless, limited only to budget constraints.

In terms audio visual issues, since ILCMA was on property Lifeline was called and was able to flatten the audio in the Ballroom. This should cut down on some of the high end "tinny" sounding pitch. According to the A/V company, handhelds, lavalieres and headsets are three distinct wireless products. Because we have groups requesting and using multiple microphone types we have to find a balance that is acceptable between the three.

We do suggest groups using handhelds and headsets versus lavalieres. A two inch difference in the placement of a lavaliere can have a major impact on the sound quality. Since you were here we have created a lavaliere placement guide for users.

Most of the meeting room temperature comments seem to indicate the room as being too cold. Some speakers or presenters actually ask for the temperatures to be cooler so they keep the attention of everyone. Of course a balance needs to be met so the attendees can feel comfortable and be able to stay engaged with the speaker. Any time staff is notified, we can contact maintenance to physically adjust the temperature behind the scenes in the control room in order to find the right balance.

As you mentioned, Eagle Ridge is now under new ownership and the management of The Bricton Group and Touchstone Golf. This is a recent development. The parties are on property frequently and, committed to the success of Eagle Ridge. At this time, it would be premature for me to comment on any future plans/renovations as details have not been disclosed.

Eagle Ridge has been honored to host the ILCMA Conference for many years. We value your business, look forward to your attendees arriving on property and enjoy working with your staff.

IML Manager's Committee ILCMA Board Report

By Mike Allison, Chair

For the IML Conference in October we will be coordinating three sessions. The first is a Mayor/Manager team session involving the Mayor and Manager of O'Fallon, Peoria, and Floosmoor, with former Mayor of Woodridge Bill Murphy moderating. Our goal is to identify how great teams lead to great results. This is important at any time, however in particular with resources in government and non profits remaining scarce new thinking is important for our communities to flourish. Also this session will coincide with the 60th anniversary of ILCMA and the 100th anniversary of IML. We feel this is a fitting recognition of the importance of professional management in local government.

Our second session will review the issues and best practices with PSEBA. One change for next year will be the reporting requirements that may result in future needed reforms to this law.

Finally we will conduct a Networking Session that Tom Thanas from Joliet will coordinate. We look forward to an open discussion of issues that are important to those in attendance.

Our ongoing work includes coordination with IML and the PSEBA Working Group. The effort is to continue collecting information on best practices and advocating for legislative change. We will discuss these issues during the IML session noted above.

Joe McCoy Legislative Director of IML in addition to the aforementioned PESBA Working Group has also started to collect information on prevailing wage impacts from a number of municipalities. We will be discussing further where this work will lead us in the near future.

The Committee has also been involved in some of the initial aspects of the IML Strategic Plan. We will continue to work with the IML Board of Directors when requested.

Joe as our liaison provides the Committee monthly updates on State legislation, laws and regulations.

The Committee continues to write articles for the ILCMA newsletter along with occasional articles for the IML magazine.

VILLAGE OF ROSELLE MEMORANDUM

To: Mark Franz, ILCMA President

ILCMA Board of Directors

From: Jason M. Bielawski, Chair, Membership Services

Date: August 19, 2013

Re: Membership Services Committee Report

The Membership Services Committee met on July 30 in Oak Brook. Wherein the following items were discussed:

ICMA State Membership Strategy and ILCMA Membership Renewals

The Committee was provided an update on the ILCMA-ICMA Membership Strategy and the role of the Committee in implementing the Strategy. The largest role of the Committee will be the retaining of existing ILCMA/ICMA members as the Committee is tasked with the annual responsibility of reaching out to ILCMA members that did not renew their membership from the following year. Based on the timing of ICMA and ILCMA membership renewals, the Committee will initiate its contacting of non-renewing members later in the year. Dawn and her staff will be working to provide the Committee with a list of non-renewing ILCMA members in late August.

Ombudsman Program

The committee members responsible for this newly created program will begin to coordinate the contacting of new ILCMA members based on information provided by the Secretariat.

Mentorship Program

The Committee discussed the program and recommended that the 2013 Membership Survey include questions for participants in the program to evaluate their overall satisfaction of the program.

MIT Subcommittee

The Committee discussed the attached article titled "Better Recruiting" that was drafted by the MIT Subcommittee. The Committee recommended that the ILCMA Board of Directors review the article and provide direction to the Subcommittee on submitting the article for inclusion in ICMA PM as well as IML Review Magazine.

Annual Goals

The following goals were identified for 2013-2014

1) Continue implementing the ICMA State Membership Strategy, 2) Conduct the 2013-2014 Membership Survey, 3) Implement MIT Task Force Recommendations, and 4) Fostering Ombudsman Program

BETTER RECRUITING

JULY 23, 2013 DRAFT

The Members in Transition (MIT) subcommittee of the Illinois City/County Management Association (ILCMA) exists to provide tools to assist those in the profession hoping to be re-employed. Its efforts complement and continue those of previous MIT Subcommittee members, the ILCMA Secretariat, ILCMA Board, ICMA/ILCMA Range Riders, and many others. The question explored by current MIT members was, "How can improvements be made to the municipal recruiting process for the applicant, search team (in-house or recruiter), and hiring body?"

The impetus behind this project began with the difficulty MITs often report in knowing what was most important to the hiring body and receiving feedback when not selected for an interview or a job offer. Narrowing future searches and improving performance are difficult for the MIT without this information. This led to a review of the recruiting process in general to provide context. Discussions with recruiters and personnel directors revealed additional issues. The resulting observations and suggestions will hopefully lead to an improved and better understood process.

Initially, position profiles should identify what's most important to the hiring body -- not every positive attribute considered. Applicants are then better able to determine if they are a good fit for the job and focus their preparation. This is the job of the search team and consists of two phases. First, generating a comprehensive list of position duties, major issues, professional skills required, and personal characteristics desired through one-on-one and then group discussions with the elected officials, key staff, and community leaders. Second, resolving differences and uncertainties and boiling these down to the primary and secondary duties, issues, skills, and personality traits sought -- which are then approved by the hiring body and included in the application material. Both take quite a bit of research time and facilitation skill to perfect.

An often overlooked, but important next step is the initial winnowing or "recruiter's cut". How is the ample list of applicants narrowed down by the search team to the few to be presented to the hiring body? The basic review looks at some combination of the following: cover letter, resume, references, requested supplemental material, internet search, criminal background check, psychological screening, phone interview, DVD of applicant answering preliminary interview questions, etc. The search team's personal knowledge of the applicant can also influence decision-making. Perhaps, they and the applicant have been involved in the profession and have talked at conferences, worked together on a committee, or know each other from past searches. All this is tied together by the experience and intuition of the search team.

Formal evaluation checklists to rank all the candidates are very useful tools. Search teams generally use them simply to manage all the applications. It would be extraordinarily helpful if decision-making bodies used them too. Providing elected officials with a checklist of potential criteria based on earlier discussions would help speed and formalize the process. Including borderline or semi-legitimate draft criteria is an effective way to start the discussion about what to include. Additionally, summary information from these checklists should be shared with any requesting applicants by the search team at the end of the process.

Keep in mind, even with checklists, participants are very human and some of the following will likely influence the selection process:

- a) Governing bodies may not agree among themselves, creating an oversized laundry list of everything each of them is looking for in a candidate. Without a strong consensus, each member of the governing body will have a different vision of the "perfect" candidate.
- b) Elected officials often place too much emphasis on experience in communities similar in size and demographics to their community rather than on skill sets.

- c) Elected officials are volunteers. Few have the experience or training needed for effective recruiting and it can be difficult for some personalities to stay focused on the process.
- d) It is part art and science. With multiple qualified candidates, it often comes down to subjective but often legitimate "Fit & Feel" -- gut assessments.
- e) Many interviewers, often mask their true intentions or feelings, are simply uncomfortable having to explain their reasoning, or get nervous if they feel their comments might make it back to applicants.
- f) Municipalities and recruiters have to be wary of the time and cost of being sued. Municipal attorneys often counsel their employer not to provide written feedback about their decisions for fear of litigation -- evaluation documents could become discoverable. Signed waivers by applicants could reduce, but would not eliminate, lawsuits. Be aware that employers are not career coaches and legally owe applicants nothing other than fair consideration. Recruiting firms are the employee of the hiring entity.
- g) Some candidates will misuse the opportunity for feedback by trying to debate the decision or by getting irritated rather than look for what they can learn from the constructive criticism.

This process will not be easy to improve. What then are some key tips for successful applicants? Remember the Boy Scout Motto -- Be Prepared.

Ask a recruiter or range rider to review your resume and cover letter or provide a mock interview. Follow the application instructions provided, key in on the desired skills specified in the job ad in your cover letter, and double check grammar, spelling, etc. They are often "part of the test" of the applicant's skill level and eye for detail.

It is prudent to be aware of and address any potential shortcomings. To shorten their list of qualified candidates, search teams and governing bodies will tend to look for information to disqualify a candidate from further consideration. Check whatever information is available electronically about you. Explain anything negative in the cover letter and discuss it with the search team. In addition, a record of short tenures, especially if due to terminations, can be hard to overcome. Some personal "soul searching" about the profession or a separate explanation, either in the cover letter or as a separate document in the resume materials, is advised.

Be comfortable and relaxed. You may have been without full-time work for some time and do not want to come across as intense or desperate. Speak slowly, clearly, and concisely.

Show genuine interest and excitement about the position and community. Be able to say why you want the job.

Know the community. Do your research. Review the community's website, meeting minutes, news articles and if possible visit the community prior to your interview. Talk with neighboring managers or consultants you know who are familiar with the organization. Ask a couple of questions at the end to demonstrate your knowledge.

Focus on the key criteria listed in the recruitment brochure and how your skills address specific issues facing the community.

Remember all of the finalists will usually be qualified. You need to stand out from the others.

"Senior" candidates should: dress in current business fashion, wear up-to-date glasses, avoid old hair styles, get up-to-speed on technology, and point out their advantages in perspective and range of experience.

Be aware that you are interviewing them as much as they are interviewing you. The recruiting process could be indicative of the way an organization addresses issues. You may or may not be comfortable with their style or see it as opportunity to introduce a more effective approach. Have questions ready for the recruiter and employer that will lead to a dialog which can help reveal whether a "best fit" is truly present.

There are organizations and decision-makers who value improvement more than they fear mistakes and are already conducting methodical, high quality recruiting.

- Get to know the recruiters and your potential future employers. If they know you and feel comfortable with you, they will be more likely to share feedback with you.
- Be yourself. Nobody is perfect and a lot depends upon the current circumstances in that municipality.
- The process can be very subjective, feedback is hard to generate, and "Best Fit" is not 100% definable.
- If you don't get a job offer, just accept that this wasn't the right fit for you and that your time will come!
- Be aware that some people simply do not have the personality and demeanor to be a long-term success in this profession. They should recognize it and move on to a profession that is a better fit for them.
- Finally, don't forget to view the wealth of MIT tips and resources provided by the ICMA and various state associations.

Regardless of the limitations, recruiting, like any other process, can be improved. Making it more methodical and providing constructive feedback to all applicants will lead to a better decision-making process. More informed decisions will generate longer, more successful tenures. To that end we propose that the MIT Subcommittee pursue the following:

- 1. Add this report to the MIT materials on the ILCMA (state association) website.
- 2. Encourage recruiters and personnel departments to:
 - a) Start the recruiting process reviewing the "do's and don'ts of recruiting" with the decision-makers.
 - b) Provide a list of potential selection criteria and help separate them as primary, secondary, and superfluous;
 - c) Help panelists define the "fit and feel" assessments they make during interviews so they can discuss their accuracy and appropriateness among themselves;
 - d) Set aside more time during the interview process for applicant questions and two-way dialog.
 - e) Take copious notes during the entire process to provide every applicant, whether interviewed or not, with constructive summary feedback if they request it after the hire; and
 - f) Keep applicants informed of the timeline, updates, and any changes in a timely manner.
- 3. Develop model questions for applicants to ask recruiters and employers which will facilitate a two-way exchange and improve the chances of generating a "best-fit".
- 4. Provide training to governing boards -- such as an Illinois Municipal League conference panel discussion and a short "How To Recruit" guide.
- 5. Develop a practical feedback tool with the assistance of municipal attorneys.
- Encourage members of our profession, as a professional courtesy, to be open to providing feedback when asked by applicants and invite unsuccessful candidates to contact them for feedback when they conduct their own search processes for department head and assistant positions.

We hope this information helps lead to Better Recruiting! Greater awareness can generate a more satisfying experience and more effective result for applicants, recruiting teams, and elected officials.

Respectfully,

The 2012/2013 ILCMA MIT Subcommittee:

ILCMA

Name of Committee: Promote the Profession Goals:

- 1) Amplify the awareness of professional management to elected officials through the development and publishing of three (3) to five (5) articles in COG newsletters and the IML Review that highlight the values of the profession through the success stories and positive relationships of managers and elected officials. Include county government and intergovernmental initiatives as topics of the articles or in addition to communities highlighted.
- 2) Identify and articulate the benefits of ILCMA engaging the services of its own public relations or media relations firm. Present the ILCMA Executive Board with a recommendation for tiered public relations services based upon proposals received from a qualified public relations firm and ICMA.
- 3) Continue the partnership with the IAMMA Next Generation Committee to implement the various initiatives of the Next Generation Five (5) Year Plan. The Plan includes dedicated ILCMA representation through the Promote the Profession Committee in a joint association effort, enhanced outreach to students and universities, and increased encouragement and support of internship opportunities to members and their communities.

ILCMA

Promote the Profession Committee – First Meeting August 1, 2013 @ 9:00 a.m.
Oak Brook Village Hall

In Attendance

Julia Cedillo (La Grange Park), Christiana Burns (Clarendon Hills), Andri Peterson (La Grange), Sharon Peterson (Countryside), Blaine Wing (Oak Brook), Adam Simon (Ancel Glink), Brian Bordeau (Elk Grove Village), Brad Burke Lincolnshire), Ray Rummel (Elk Grove Village), John Coakley (Warrenville). Absent: Ben Pohl, Jeanine Smith (Prairie Grove), Will Jones (Glencoe), Lisa Scheiner (Burr Ridge)

Article Series

The group discussed the status of the articles. One article on Lake County is in process, under edit by Will Jones (also written by Will Jones). The group also discussed updating the draft, "Making the case for a City Manager." There was some thought that too much time had passed for re-publishing and that the committee might be better served by writing an article on ways for hiring a professional manager – in general (citing some examples). Overall, the group noted the importance of writing articles that had broad interest and underscored the values of the profession. A suggestion was made to solicit organizations and professional consultants for article ideas to ensure that the topic was trending and of value for governance.

There was some discussion on including articles that focused on efficiencies created as a result of professional management. Also noted were articles that highlighted the importance and value of ethics in professional management. The group discussed some communities of concern as reasons why these types of articles could be educational/valuable (St. Charles, Wauconda, Schiller Park). The group also noted that an article on the Dixon aftermath might be timely. Brad Burke noted he would send out the presentation John Phillips provided to Dixon, as a potential resource for an article.

Public Relations / Media Relations

There was much discussion how public relations can be done effectively. The group noted concerns about self-promotion while being effective in getting a message out to different audiences. Andri provided an overview of the Serafin proposal and how proactive and reactive communications are each important but work together.

The group discussed the process to date on securing a proposal from Serafin, and then soliciting a similar proposal from ICMA. Members of the Committee and the ILCMA Board have scheduled a teleconference with Dave Limardi of ICMA to discuss the ICMA proposal on August 21st. A recommendation to the ILCMA Board is due no later than August 28th. The preliminary evaluation to date is such that the committee recommends that ILCMA enlist the services of Serafin & Associates as the services enumerated in the ICMA proposal are not equal and are rather supplemental in nature. Some of the services included in the Serafin proposal are: SWOT analysis, written report and implementation guide (which will assist in website redevelopment), creation of standards for communications, the establishment of proactive and reactive policies for messaging, crisis communications plan and communications training. The proposal includes a rate for ongoing communications support and counsel for responsive media inquiries and critical issues.

There was some discussion about partnering with other state associations that represent public entities. There was also some discussion about the potential value of creating a separate organization to lead messaging on ILCMA's behalf.

Next Generation Outreach

It was noted that the IAMMA Next Generation Committee works with the PTP in progressing goals. The Five Year Plan was approved by the ILCMA Board in 2012. The group briefly discussed the Five Year Plan and noted that all goals are well underway with the exception of one final goal – framing a program that promotes the benefits of the intern program within the local government organization.

The group identified the lack of manager attendance at the annual January university mixer. The committee will focus on increasing manager participation by promoting the event to the membership and securing attendance in advance.

"How To" Manual

It was noted that this document had recently been updated and posted to the ILCMA website. This document should be reviewed every couple of years, with a survey conducted every five years. The next survey should take place in 2015.

Next Steps

The committee meets five times each term. The committee meets before each ILCMA Board Meeting: (1) August, (2) October, (3) December or January, (4) February or March, and (5) May. The subcommittees should meet in between. Therefore, the subcommittees should plan their first meeting for September to discuss the work to be done to reach their goals. The PR/MR group needs to meet sooner to complete evaluation and recommendation. The recommendation is due to the ILCMA Board by August 28th or beforehand.

ILCMA Strategic Plan (Three Year Plan)

The group briefly discussed the committee's responsibilities noted in the Strategic Plan (distributed). The one outstanding item is the work to be done with regard to the media relations recommendation.

What's Our Plan?

- Confirm committee assignments
- Confirm committee goals
- PR/MR Recommendation to ILCMA Board
- Identity potential article topics and resources at least three articles this term (Finalize Lake County Article)
- Progress on Next Generation goals and increase manager attendance / participation

RECOMMENDATION TO ILCMA BOARD PUBLIC RELATIONS SERVICES

AUGUST 22, 2013

Background

The ILCMA Strategic Plan (2011-2014) identifies several strategic priorities related to enhancing the perception of the professional local government management profession. In the furtherance of these priorities, a goal to research public awareness campaign options that promote the benefits of professional management was established by ILCMA for the Promote the Profession Committee in 2012 – 2013.

In direct response to this goal, the Promote the Profession Committee has worked over the past several months to research and evaluate public awareness campaign options which included conversations with ICMA, identification of potential local firms that provide public relations / media relations services, and consideration of the various administrative policies that might be required in order to effectively implement a communications plan / outreach to the media.

As the initial analysis has concluded, the purpose of this report is to transmit a recommendation to the ILCMA Executive Board with a multi-tiered option for public relations services based on proposals received from both ICMA and Serafin and Associates.

Serafin and Associates Proposal

To briefly summarize previous reports to the ILCMA Executive Board, the Promote the Profession Committee surveyed the membership and local councils of government to help identify a local public relations / media relations firm that is familiar with local government issues and well qualified to assist the association with media / public communications.

Importantly, Serafin and Associates has unique knowledge of the Illinois political landscape as well as strong relationships with local media. The firm is familiar with a broad scope of legislative issues and has past experience in working with municipalities, recently with the COG's and Mayor's Caucus in reference to preserving the LGDF. The Committee met with Thom Serafin and after discussion of the ILCMA's needs and unique attributes, requested the attached proposal outlining specific deliverables.

The proposal from Serafin and Associates contemplates a two phased approach encompassing both proactive (raising public awareness) messaging and reactive (crisis) messaging. Further, the proposal provides direct and immediate access to media outlets which may be difficult for ILCMA to connect with on its own. While writing effective messages is an attribute that ILCMA members already possess, the ability to get the message to the media outlets in a timely fashion is a critical component of any successful communications initiative.

Significantly, the first phase of the proposal provides for a Communications Assessment process, coupled with immediate support. The Communications Assessment process will help set the stage for how the organization will move forward with communications strategies by providing an operational and administrative framework. Serafin and Associates proposes to begin the engagement with a SWOT analysis in order to prioritize current and emerging critical issues; evaluate procedures for communicating during crisis situations; identify stakeholders; and evaluate the functionality and usefulness of the current website as related to media and member relations.

In response to ongoing discussions within ILCMA's membership, the SWOT analysis is anticipated to help ILCMA identify how to best balance the wishes of individual members and the needs of the greater membership when choosing when and how to respond to inaccurate / negative media reports that threaten the integrity of the profession. In addition, policies and procedures established as a result of the assessment process can be used as a framework for effective communications and response to issues well into the future.

Three months of immediate support (which includes 24 / 7 media contact) are included in the first phase of the proposal, utilization of which would give ILCMA an opportunity to "test" the service in order to evaluate how and when it could be best utilized on a go forward basis.

The proposal for Phase I is $20,000 and includes all of the deliverables summarized in this report and outlined greater detail in the proposal.

Phase II of the proposal is meant to provide ongoing communications support once Phase I has been completed. Fees depend on the scope of services and whether or not services are rendered under a retainer basis or by the hour.

ICMA Proposal

To assist the Committee further in its evaluation, ICMA was provided with a copy of the Serafin and Associates proposal and was asked to also provide a proposal in response to the services outlined by Serafin. ICMA provided a detailed and comprehensive response to each of the services in the Serafin proposal, including the various resources and tools that ICMA currently has available to ILCMA members.

The ICMA proposal appears to be consistent with the Committee's findings that several of the services and support items identified as being necessary to the success of ILCMA's proposed initiative require the engagement of a local firm that has the resources to implement the identified objectives. ICMA has confirmed that costs associated with the engagement of the local firm are the responsibility of the state association. ICMA has also confirmed that the firm used by ICMA to develop the Life Well Run Campaign would likely not be suitable for our consideration as it is not as well versed in local issues.

Therefore, while the ICMA proposal generally does not provide the same services being offered by Serafin and Associates, the Committee believes that the resources that are available and offered by ICMA will work in tandem with and be an integral and necessary part of the development of ILCMA's communications plan. Further, it will be extremely important that ILCMA continue to interface and coordinate with ICMA staff at regular intervals in order to ensure consistent messaging.

It is also anticipated that the communications services being contemplated by ILCMA as they are implemented and evolve will be regularly monitored by ICMA in order to help serve as a model for other state associations that may be interested in similar approaches. In the future, our experiences may help ICMA to identify broader regional or sub-regional areas served by a communications firm and / or ICMA staff.

Finally, as part of its proposal, ICMA offered website development and hosting services. ICMA currently provides these services for some state associations. ICMA currently charges $1,500 initially for web design and transfer and $1,000 per year as a hosting fee. ILCMA would remain responsible for entering and maintaining the content of the website as it currently does.

Committee Recommendation

The Promote the Profession Committee recommends that the ILCMA Executive Board accept Phase I of the proposal from Serafin and Associates as the services outlined will develop a framework that will help ILCMA to achieve its strategic objectives related to enhancing the perception of the profession.

Further, the Committee recommends that ILCMA coordinate the general effort with ICMA in order to ensure consistent messaging between the organizations and to allow ICMA to monitor ILCMA's progress with the initiative in order for it to serve as a model for other state associations to consider.

Finally, the Committee does not recommend taking advantage of ICMA's website offer at this time as the proposal from Serafin and Associates provides for an assessment of the website, providing information on how to enhance it to make it more media and member friendly. The Committee recommends that ILCMA reorganize the website with feedback from the Serafin and Associates proposal and then assess the need for additional changes to the website in the future.

ICMA 2022 Conference Email

At their June meeting, the ICMA Executive Board selected the Midwest Region (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Wisconsin) to host ICMA's 2022 Annual Conference. State association leaders in the Midwest Region are invited to submit proposals to host the 2022 conference on behalf of their associations.

The Executive Board has adopted the following procedures for selecting a conference site:

- Determine the region in which the conference should be held (board). By tradition, the board provides for a rotation of conference sites among ICMA's vice-presidential regions.
- Invite members in the region to partner with convention and visitors bureaus to submit proposals to host the conference (staff).
- Evaluate proposals (staff) and narrow to two finalists (board).
- Visit finalist sites and prepare a recommendation (staff).
- Select conference site (board).

The criteria normally used for selection of a conference site, as adopted by the board, are: the general and logistical strengths of competing sites, including hotels, meeting facilities, and transportation factors; the highest and best financial commitment from competing convention and visitors bureaus; and the expressed commitments of prospective host committees.

In preparing proposals, it is important to refer to two documents, "ICMA Annual Conference Site Selection Proposal Guidelines" and "ICMA Annual Conference Host Committee Guidelines," which are attached.

The convention and visitors bureau in the proposed city should be contacted early on in the preparation of a proposal. Since it is their job to attract conference business, they will prepare most of the materials once you have expressed your wishes and provide a members' perspective on an ICMA conference. Please note that ICMA has engaged the services of Experient, Inc., a multi-management and consulting company that will work closely with ICMA throughout the site selection and contract negotiation process. It is essential that you mention this relationship to the convention bureau during your initial conversation with them.

Please express your intention to submit a proposal in writing by November 1, 2013; final proposals are due by December 2, 2013. If you have questions about submitting a proposal, please do not hesitate to contact conference planner Karen Rader (krader@icma.org; 602-268-8380) or conference director Ross Hoff (rhoff@icma.org; 202-962-3646), who will be glad to provide any assistance they can.

ICMA ANNUAL CONFERENCE HOST COMMITTEE GUIDELINES

Updated August, 2013

ICMA conference host committees are asked to contribute their time and resources in a number of ways to make the conference an enjoyable and rewarding experience for all and to minimize direct costs to ICMA members and their families. In evaluating site proposals, the Executive Board looks first at a site's ability to conveniently accommodate ICMA's attendees and its multifaceted program. Next, they look for the highest and best financial commitment from bidding convention and visitors bureaus. Finally, they review the commitments of the local volunteer host group. Especially important are any special allowances or discounts (e.g., reasonable hotel costs, reduced or free convention facilities) that the prospective hosts are able to negotiate.

Host committees are also asked to make a minimum financial commitment of $75,000 to cover costs that may include registration bags (though they are often paid for entirely by ICMA-RC), setting up a booth at the prior year's conference (though the convention and visitors bureau will often cover much of the cost), attire for committee members and volunteers, a reception or dinner for the Conference Planning Committee, restaurant guides (though the host city will often cover that), and host committee administrative/meeting expenses.

Though it is not required by ICMA, most host committees are interested in raising funds beyond the minimum commitment to cover expenses such as subsidizing social event ticket prices, paying rental fees for expensive reception venues, serving refreshments at the host area in the convention center, subsidizing the cost of the convention center, purchasing items for the registration packets, throwing a volunteer reception, contributing to the keynote speaker budget, or engaging a retired member or fundraising professional to coordinate corporate outreach. Most recent host committees have spent a total of $150,000 to $250,000.

In the past, host cities have made financial contributions to the conference, and many host committees have raised money over a period of years from state and regional association members. The Executive Board allows host committees to seek subsidies for events from private sector sources if they wish. It is very important for host committee fundraisers to coordinate their efforts with ICMA Strategic Partner Program staff.

Conference host committees are involved in the following aspects of the conference:

Social and Program Activities

- Major evening social events
- Opening session formalities
- Inspirational breakfast
- Field demonstrations
- Athletic events
- Tours
- Partners program
- Assistants' Exchange Program

Business and Logistics Support

- Coordination with ICMA
- Promotional activities
- VIP transportation
- Welcome desks at hotels and airport
- Welcome packets

Social and Program Activities

Major Evening Social Events

Approximately 1½ to 2 years before the conference, ICMA staff and the Host Committee's subcommittee for social events will interview and hire a local "destination management company" (DMC), which will take the lead in arranging the conference's major social events and tours. The Host Committee's responsibilities are to offer suggestions for venues, consider subsidizing the costs of the events, and to work with staff and the DMC to make final decisions on what will be offered.

Saturday reception. This early-evening ticketed event the day before the conference officially begins typically features light reception fare and attracts 400–700 attendees. Recent ticket prices have ranged from $20 to $35.

Sunday Welcoming Reception. The Welcoming Reception usually takes place following the Opening Session on Sunday afternoon. This is a ticketed event, the price of which is included in the registration fee to encourage attendance by all 3,000–3,500 registrants. In recent years, the tradition has become to hold the event in the conference exhibit hall.

The Executive Board has established guidelines to be used when planning the Welcoming Reception. These guidelines respond to the preferences of ICMA's general membership as reported through their conference Evaluation Committee and Planning Committee representatives for the past several years.

- 1. The Welcoming Reception should take place in the same facility as the Opening Session or within easy walking distance of the facility. If circumstances dictate busing, then the busing time should be brief.
- 2. Welcoming Reception food should be light reception fare; feeding a large crowd a full meal should not be attempted because it is expensive and is rarely successful.

Monday or Tuesday evening events. Typically, one to three optional, ticketed social events are offered on Monday or Tuesday evening to accommodate 900 – 1500 total participants. Venues have included concerts, museums, zoos, and cruises.

Opening Session

The Host Committee assists with three major aspects of the conference's Opening Session on Sunday by arranging for: a local elected official, usually the mayor and/or county board chair, to offer a brief welcome; a color guard to present the flags; and a local religious leader to offer a non-denominational invocation. The committee also offers advice on appropriate performers for a short musical introduction at the beginning of the session. If the committee wishes to continue the tradition of presenting ICMA headquarters with a gift (usually a work of art), it is usually presented at the Opening Session.

Inspirational Breakfast

The Host Committee organizes the program for the Inspirational Breakfast, which is usually held on Monday morning and typically attracts 150–350 attendees. ICMA arranges for the meal and logistics and the Host Committee arranges for a speaker and music, moderate expenses for which are covered by the ticket price. The program usually consists of an invocation, musical entertainment, and an inspirational speech.

Field demonstrations

Field demos are a popular part of the conference's substantive program, attracting 50–150 attendees each. The Host Committee is asked to identify 5 to 7 potential field demo sites, which ICMA staff will visit and, together with the committee, narrow to 3 to 5 four demos on the basis of interest and cost. The local governments chosen for the demonstrations are responsible for preparing presentations, making logistical arrangements, and picking up any associated costs. ICMA arranges for transportation, the cost of which is recovered through a modest ticket fee.

Athletic events

Conference athletic events usually include golf and a 5K Fun Run/Walk. In recent years, some host committees also have organized tennis and bowling events. The Host Committee organizes and oversees the events, hires pros as needed, and arranges for refreshments, t-shirts and awards. Tickets are pre-sold by ICMA to cover fees, refreshments, transportation, trophies, and usually t-shirts. Attendance varies from 25–150 per event.

Tours

Sightseeing and social tours, which attract 100–800 participants, are planned for all four days of the conference days (Sunday through Wednesday) and sometimes for Saturday, as well. Whether or not to offer pre- or post-conference tours depends on the location and timing. The Host Committee's responsibility is to propose ideas and work with staff and the local DMC to make final decisions on the tours that will be offered.

Partners Activities

Though many partners are interested and involved in the main conference program, ICMA provides separate partners programs on Monday and Wednesday. Since these programs are excellent opportunities to welcome partners and encourage group involvement, the Host Committee may wish to assist the Executive Board partners in greeting those who attend. Attendance is usually 300–400.

In recent years, partners have also been interested in volunteering to participate in a service project to benefit the local community. The Host Committee is asked to help identify a recipient organization for the service project and assist in any transportation that may be required.

Assistants' Exchange Program

Taking place on the Friday before the conference, the Assistants' Exchange offers early career professionals an opportunity to spend a day visiting a local government in the vicinity of the conference site. The Host Committee organizes host communities, fields applications from interested participants (usually 10 to 15), matches host communities with participants, and arranges an informal gathering of program participants on Friday evening. Host Communities are asked to arrange transportation to/from the conference site and supply participants with lunch.

Conference Business and Logistics Support

Coordination with ICMA

One local staff person should be designated to coordinate logistical details and other loose ends for the Host Committee and to be the committee's main liaison to ICMA staff. In the past, this person has been an administrative assistant or assistant manager from the Host Committee chair's local government. This liaison role between the Host Committee and ICMA is a critical aspect of successful conferences.

Promotional Activities

With the help of the local convention and visitors bureau, Host Committee members staff an exhibit hall booth at the prior year's conference. Approximately 10 months prior to the conference, the Host Committee hosts the on-site meeting of the Conference Planning Committee, whose members represent state associations and ICMA committees and task forces. The Host Committee chair is automatically a member of the Planning Committee and all Host Committee members are invited to participate in the Planning Committee's development of the conference educational program. For the preliminary program, the Host Committee chair prepares an invitation message.

VIP Transportation

The Host Committee provides cars and drivers for airport pickup and delivery of international and other VIPs during the conference.

Welcome Desks

During peak arrival times on Saturday and Sunday, Host Committee volunteers staff welcome desks at the airport and in the lobbies of conference hotels. The Host Committee also sets up a host desk near the registration area and schedules volunteers to staff the desk during registration hours, which span five days. Host desk volunteers answer attendees' questions about the city and the Host Committee's activities, especially field demonstrations and sports events. Host Committees usually purchase identifiable attire (e.g., polo shirts, denim shirts, vests) for volunteers to wear during the conference.

Registration Bag

The Host Committee assists in selecting the design of the bag. The committee also contributes to the contents of the bag, including no-cost items from local companies, and a restaurant guide, which the committee assembles, produces, and pays for. The assistance of Host Committee volunteers in registration bag stuffing is appreciated.

Host Committee Timeline for Planning an ICMA Conference

In general, a Host Committee begins to concentrate on fundraising and promotion in the early years, and may tentatively reserve sites for major events such as the Saturday and Sunday receptions and Tuesday evening options.

Subcommittees should be created approximately two years out to brainstorm ideas and begin to carefully observe what works and does not work at prior-year conferences. The pace accelerates one year out with the first really intense period coming between the preceding conference and the following spring. By the end of February of the conference year, decisions must be made on all social activities and any other activities requiring a ticket, so that the preliminary program can be released in May/June. The next intense period is around the conference itself.

Eight years prior to conference:

- June: Site selected by ICMA Executive Board
- Host Committee selects chair
- Host sub-committee on fundraising is appointed and begins planning

Annually from time of selection:

• Future host committee reps meet at each ICMA conference to discuss issues with each other

- Host committee members staff exhibit booth coordinated by their city's convention and visitors bureau at the preceding year's event
- One complimentary ticket will be issued to hosts for each sports event, field demo, and the Inspirational Breakfast to observe how they function at the prior-year conference

• At the closing session, Conference Host Committee chair introduces 5-minute promotional video supplied by CVB

October of year preceding conference:

- Hosts' social subcommittee have morning meeting with ICMA staff and DMC to decide on recommendations regarding Saturday, Sunday, and Tuesday evening social events

ICMA ANNUAL CONFERENCE SITE SELECTION PROPOSAL GUIDELINES

Updated August, 2013

This document is designed to help potential bidders evaluate the commitments and major responsibilities involved in hosting the ICMA Annual Conference. It also outlines the information to be included in proposals to host the conference.

Proposals to host the ICMA Annual Conference are submitted by prospective conference host committees that are usually formed by state, regional, or provincial associations of local government managers/assistant managers. The prospective host committee should work closely with the convention and visitors bureau of the city they wish to propose for the conference to assemble a proposal package demonstrating the appeal of the city to ICMA members and their families. Please review the logistical requirements with the local convention and visitors bureau representative. The proposal should also give the details of a financial package in support of the conference that includes financial contributions and/or reduced rates or no-cost goods and services from the site city or host committee. See the accompanying "Annual Conference Host Committee Guidelines" document for details about the responsibilities and commitments of ICMA conference host committees.

Site Selection Process

The site selection process occurs in two phases. First, ICMA staff review proposals that have been submitted and prepare a comparison report for the ICMA Executive Board. The board narrows the field to not more than 3 cities for staff site visits. Based on the visits, staff prepares a report and recommendation for the Board, which makes the final site selection decision. The selection process takes approximately eight months from the time proposals are received.

ICMA currently utilizes the services of Orchid Event Solutions for conference housing. In the event this relationship no longer exists, ICMA may select the city's CVB to handle conference housing, since they typically offer complimentary housing and either complimentary or very reduced rates for convention center rental. It is important for the CVB to share with the hotels the potential to use their housing services.

Please note that ICMA has engaged the services of Experient Inc., A Maritz Travel Company, a multi-management and consulting company that will work closely with ICMA throughout the site selection and contract negotiation process. It is very important to mention this relationship to the convention and visitors bureau during initial conversations with them.

Meeting and Exhibit Space Requirements

Monday prior to move in and continuing through the following Wednesday:

Included in the total square footage is a book store, pavilion, and central gathering area at 8,000–12,000 sq. ft., and two (2) theaters at 2,500 sq. ft. each. A minimal percentage increase per year in square footage is anticipated.

The space needs to be available for set up beginning on Friday morning and continuing through 11:59 p.m. on Wednesday, including tear down.

Saturday through Wednesday:

• Ten (10) rooms for concurrent sessions set in rounds or classroom accommodating approximately 50 persons each are needed. If not available in the convention center, they will need to be blocked in the headquarters hotel.

Sunday through Wednesday:

- 4–6 meeting rooms of 400–500 each in rounds, simultaneously used with 6–10 meeting rooms of 150–350 each in rounds (if the meetings cannot be accommodated in rounds the next preference is theater style), and
- 6–10 smaller meeting rooms of 100–150 each in rounds, and
- 5–8 meeting rooms ranging from 400 to 1,500 square feet with various sets as needed.

Food functions include daily refreshment breaks in the exhibit hall and possibly informal pick-up and carry lunches. There is a major opening reception on Sunday evening, which is held in the convention center exhibit hall.

There are a number of breakfasts, lunches, receptions and dinners that will be held in the convention center or headquarters hotel as well as some affiliate and exhibitor hospitality functions. Food and beverage revenue is currently estimated at approximately $180,000, exclusive of tax and gratuities.

Contract Provisions:

- Hotel room rates should be in at least 2014 terms with no more than a 3% increase per year. A flat rate is preferred.
- Rates should include at least a $10 rebate for housing bureau costs and either convention center or association subsidy.
- Housing and a minimum number of hours of registration assistance must be provided by the CVB at no charge to ICMA.
- 30% off rack rates for suites being occupied by ICMA members, excluding any suites being used for hospitality by exhibitors.
- Block of 45 government rated rooms that can be spread out over several of the hotels if they are not all available in one hotel.
- One (1) complimentary room per 45 utilized on a cumulative basis including early arrivals and stay overs. To be utilized or credited to the master account at ICMA's option.
- Three (3) complimentary presidential-type suites of equal or similar size in headquarters property.

- Three (3) one-bedroom suite upgrades at the group rate.
- Experient is commissionable at 10%.
- 30 upgrades to club level or preferred rooms category for board members and VIPs in headquarters property.

Financial Requirements

The financial commitment of host committees and convention and visitors bureaus varies depending on location, but every site is expected to provide some financial support to the conference. Since the conference is expected to cover all costs and generate a profit from other than registration fees, the ICMA Executive Board has expressed a preference for conference sites offering the highest and best financial commitment.

Expense reductions, such as free facilities, subsidized shuttle busing, or donated clerical staff, plus actual cash contributions, help keep overall costs down for attendees. Cash contributions come from four major sources: the host local government, the host convention and visitors bureau, ICMA members in the state or region, and private sector sources.

Host committees are asked to make a minimum financial commitment of $75,000 to cover costs that may include registration bags, a booth at the prior year's conference, attire for committee members and volunteers, dinner for the Conference Planning Committee, restaurant guides, and administrative expenses. Most recent committees have wanted to raise funds well beyond this minimum, raising as much as $150,000 to $250,000 to subsidize social event ticket prices, pay rental fees for reception venues, serve refreshments at the host area in the convention center, purchase gifts for the registration packets, throw a reception for volunteers, or contribute to the speaker budget.

Information to Include in Proposals

1. Proposed conference dates. Conferences are usually held between mid-September and late October. The current Saturday-to-Wednesday schedule is expected to continue for the foreseeable future. Participant arrivals begin on Friday, are heaviest on Saturday, and lighter on Sunday. The dates of national and religious holidays as well as other major conferences should be considered so that there will be no conflicts.

Holiday2022Labor DaySeptember 5Rosh HashanahSeptember 26Yom KippurOctober 5Columbus DayOctober 10Thanksgiving (Canada)October 10

2. Hotel commitments. Each hotel to be used for the conference should be specified, including name, number of sleeping rooms committed, average rates (both rack and group rates being offered to ICMA), concessions offered, and details of all meeting room space with a floor plan. All room blocks and conference facilities should be put on a first-option-hold basis for the suggested hotels.

Since future sleeping room rates are unknown, hotels should be urged to provide some formula basis for conference rates (e.g., rate increase not to exceed more than 3% increase per year) that can be guaranteed. It is also important to include costs and other details of meeting and banquet space at key hotels.

- 3. Meeting facilities/convention facilities. If a convention center facility is proposed, a firm commitment of all space and pricing should be included. Details should also be provided for banquet rooms, meetings rooms, and exhibit space. Be sure to include associated costs; where possible, the use of facilities at no cost to ICMA should be stressed in the proposal. All conference facilities should be put on a first-option-hold basis.
- 4. Convention and Visitors Bureau Support. Describe the availability, use of, and role of the local convention and visitors bureau. Of particular interest are the services provided to a conference, especially housing, registration staff, promotional materials, city and airport welcome signage, and help for the host committee in identifying tours and programs.
- 5. Transportation. It is important to have continuous shuttle service between hotels that are more than one-half mile from each other and/or the convention facility. Describe bus services available to provide this type of service; possible restrictions (such as non-availability of buses at certain times during the day), and, if possible, estimated costs; additional bus availability for tours, partners, and youth programs; and host committee arrangements for VIP airport transportation. Also describe public transportation/light rail options that would be available to conference attendees on a complimentary or reduced fare basis.

- 6. Field demonstrations. Describe suggested tours or visits to facilities of professional interest to local government managers (e.g., innovative transportation center, special training facility, modern waste treatment plant, etc.).
- 7. General tours. Give suggestions for morning/afternoon tours of general interest available from Sunday through Wednesday (e.g., orientation tour of the city, architectural tour, special facility tour, such as a winery).
- 8. Pre-/post-conference tours. What pre- or post-conference tours are suggested that best reflect the flavor of the area? Past post-conference tours have included visits to the Grand Canyon; Niagara Falls; Guadalajara, Mexico; and Williamsburg, Virginia.
- 9. Sports. Describe golf, tennis, 5K, racquetball, basketball, bowling or other facilities that are available for general daily activity and possible tournament play.
- 10. Major events. Describe major sporting, cultural, social, or general interest events (e.g., rival college or professional sports, concerts, plays, special festivals) that typically take place at the proposed conference time.
- 11. Green Practices. Describe the green practices that the city, convention center, and potential headquarters hotel currently has in place and plans for the future. Include information on recycling, waste reduction, energy efficiencies, and any other environmentally responsible practices. ICMA intends to lessen our meeting's environmental impact.
- 12. Accessibility. Is there a major airport near the city? Are there direct flights from most major cities into the area? Provide some sample airfares from major markets to the cities under consideration. What does it cost to go from airport to hotel? What type of transportation is available from airport to hotels? What is the distance?
- 13. Alcoholic beverage laws. Describe any state or local restrictions for conference receptions, hospitality suites, or private parties, including days or hours when alcohol may not be served.
- 14. Host Committee commitment. Is the committee willing to fund a minimum of $75,000 toward their conference activities? What other contributions does the committee propose to make (e.g., social event subsidy, clerical help, printing services, chauffeured cars, conference staffing, communication equipment)? Ideas for welcome packet gifts may also be suggested.

A complete copy of the proposal should be prepared and mailed or e-mailed to:
